

This poem by Tom Ziglar is such good reminder how easy it is to move into action, and how so often we get in our own way. Enjoy!

Something big is on your heart.

Just Start.

I don't know how.
I have never done that before.
What if I look like a fool?

Just Start.

Other people do this sort of thing, not me.
I barely know anything about it.
It's hard.

Just Start.

I will be 55 years old this year.
There is a lot of competition out there.
Nobody in my family has ever done that.

Just Start.

Take the first step.
Write it down as a goal.
Invest 20 minutes a day learning about it.

Something big is on your heart.

If you could do it alone, with what you have, it wouldn't be God-sized, would it?

Just Start.

Remember, God doesn't give you the strength to overcome.

He gives you the strength WHILE you overcome.

Just Start.

You are Born To Win. so go ahead and Live Well.

Tom Ziglar